ST. JOHN'S AND ITS BUTTON RIVER GIVES UP THE BODY

Whenver It Is Pressed a Bride- Miss Bursley's Remains to Be groom Is Warranted to Appear.

Comptroller and Mrs. Eckels Going to Europe-Engagement of Miss Ethel Shriver to Mr. Beardslee.

Society has a fine little joke on St. John's Church, which it finds no end of answerent in repeating whenever occasion

This is to the effect that if a girl of the well set desires to change her state of shorte bloosedness for wedded bliss all she has to do is to press the button at St. John's Church, and the groem appears.

This has its origin in the fact that during the past winter the custom was mangurated of pressing the botton in the vestibule of the church as soon as the bride had arrived and the weilding party was in order to prowed down the nisle. This electric button onnected with a bell in the rolong room here the groom with the best man and he rector always a wait the signal to enter the church and neet the bridal procession | sylvania avenue and Third street southeast, at the head of the able or at the chancel steps.

Before this custom of pressing the latten or the groom to appear was inaugurated it was customery for the sexton to inform both the organist and the groom of the arrival of the bride. It having been found that nonerous detays and embarrassing inis-takes resulted from the following of this time toward system, the new order of things was inaugurated with such happy result that now when society wants a hough it gets one off by repeating the little joke to the effect that all that is necessary at St. John's s to press the button and the groom will Buried To-day.

Her Father Satisfied the Accident Was Ducto Her Own Carelessness. Action of Postoffice Clerks.

The Potomac yesterday forenoon, as stated in The Evening Times, gave up the body of Miss Ruth W. Bursley, who was drowned Monday night by falling from the steamer Macalester.

The corpse floated to the surface at a point off Bryan's Point very near the spot where the young lady was lost,

Dr. Keagh and Pilot Cheshire, of the steambout Harry Randall, were the first to observe the floating object. It was taken in charge by the police steamer Blackburn and brought to this city about I o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Bursley's body will not be removed to her father's residence as it was at first intended but will remain at George P. Zurhorst's undertaking establishment at Pennwhere services over the remains will be held to-day, Rev. A. J. Graham, of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, will officiate and the funeral will be private Only the family and immediate friends are expected to attend. The interment will be at Congressional cemetery.

Coroner Hammett viewed the remains at the request of the family yesterday afternoon. This notion, however, was unofficial, diction of the District.

There will be no further investigation, as Miss Bursley's father has exonerated the of lears and crew of the Macalester from all statue. He informed Dr. Hammett that he did not attach blame to anyone. The death of his daughter, he added, was accidental and due to her own enrelessus

It is stated, however, that the clerks of the cuy postoffice will present a petition to basi inspection bureau, requesting a thor-ough importion of the Macabeter, on which the accident occurred, and the other river steamers for the purpose of determining whether or not they are fully equipped with the best life saving apparatus he per micoperation with the least possible loss of time

The police station yesterday morning resounded with the cries of a small colored girl, Daisy Parney, who was receiving a thrashing at the hands of her grapdacether. The girl had gone into the ouse of Georgianna Day, on Princess street, and stolen two dellars from a box in the house. Justice Thompson, who heard the case, gave the grandmother, who is raising the girl, the choice of having her go to fail or giving her a thrashing, and she

The body will then be taken to Washington for interment in the Congres-sional Cemetery. Mrs. Bellew, who was eighty-two years of age, was one of the nost beloved old ladies in tehcity.

Levi Kane, a well known employe of J. H. D. Smoot & Co., and Ada Trigger, were married on Wednesday night last at the home of the groom, on South Washington street, by the Rev. W. H. McAllister. Mr. Kane's wife having only been dead a short while, his neighbors assembled later in the night and treated him to a regular cala thumpian screnade, which did not disturb the couple in the least.

The police are after two whitemen named Isaac Hall and James Wood, to answer a charge of violating the game laws. The en were seen hunting in the marsh above Hunting Creek, and a large number of black birds and sora, which they had killed, were found by the officers. The season does not open until Sep tember 1.

MRS. HARMON ACQUITTED.

Her Husband's Brutality Atones for Her Killing Him. (Special to the Times.) Richmond, Va., Aug. 22.-Mrs. Mary Harmon was acquitted to-day at Fairfax

Court House of the murder of her husband. She separated from him in 1894 because of extreme brutality; since then she has lived in a little house of her own near Fairfax Court House, supporting herself and eight children. She was frequently annoyed by Harmon, who threatened her life. June 2d he at-tempted to enter her house through a window; while climbing in Mrs. Harmon picked up a gun and fired the fatal shot. The case elicited much sympathy.

The trial which lasted three days created great intertest. The jury rendered a verdict after being out ten minutes amid leud cheers.

ANACOSTIA NEWS. Health Inspector Beaumont was in Anaostia vesterday and made a thorough in ration of the fown. He visited the place where for some time there was a ole used for a drainage pond and found that it had been remedied, several cessools were ordered abandoned, and then he attention of the inspector was brought to bear on the Bridge street sewer, which mpties at the Anacostia end of the Ana-ostia Bridge. This sewer has its outlet from just under the payement and is some distance from ven low water mark, consequently the ode from the drainage is at times almost un bearable, and Health Inspector Beaumon found it a merace to health, and so reported it. The matter was made special and late last evening Health Officer Woodward attached hisapproval to the resoftme relation of Mr. Beaumont, that the sewer he carried out to low water mark. Accompanying Inspector Beaumont was the food inspector, who visited the buri-ness hours of the town, but had no occasion for report other than that the food was of perfect quality.
